

CENGN leads in the advancement of Next Generation Networks via its strategic industry, government and academia partnerships. Technical expertise and a world-class lab enable CENGN to assist Canadian companies in demonstrating innovation and competing within the global Information and Communications Technology marketplace.

CENGN has established a multi-vendor open platform utilizing Software-defined networking and Network functions virtualization, backed by expert personnel, to enable Canadian companies to advance their technology from the innovation to the commercialization phase.

Learn how leveraging the CENGN infrastructure and professional services may be of benefit to your organization in assisting in the advancement of your network or services offerings.